CEPERO'S CASE

Transferred From the Military to the Civil Authorities.

He is an American, and Was in Command of the Insurgents.

He's Charged With Being a Rebel and That He Was the Leader of Many Raids—Honore Laine, a Frenchman, Sentenced to Prison for Life.

HAVANA, Aug. 21.—The case of Gen. Jose Lorenzo Cepero, an American citizen who was arrested in January last on board a steamer running between Cienfuegos and Batabano, has been transferred from the military to the civil authorities, and he will be tried by the high criminal court of Santa Clara. Gen. Cepero, it is said, was in command of the rebels who engaged the column of Gen. Arizon at Matanzas. It is also charged that he was the leader of many raids in the eastern provinces. Cepero took passage at Cienfuegos on the steamer on which he was arrested. He was recognized by a Spanish lieutenant, who denounced him to the authorities when the vessel reached Batabano. He was brought to Havana and lodged in Morro castle. His case was taken up by Ramon O. Williams, the then American consul general, who demanded that he be tried by the civil courts and not by a court martial, as being an American citizen and not having been captured with arms, his case came under the terms of the Spanish-American treaties. This demand has now been conceded and Cepero will be transferred to Santa Clara for trial.

Honore Laine, a French citizen who was arrested in Havana in January, after having, as he claimed, been a prisoner in Gomez's camp for five days, when he made his escape, has been tried by a court martial, the authorities claiming that instead of having been a prisoner of the rebels he went to them willingly and took an active part in their operations against the Spaniards. The procurer fiscal demanded that Laine be sentenced to imprisonment for life. The judgment of the court martial was reserved.

The steamer Triton, which arrived here Thursday, had on board 200 sick Spanish soldiers who had been brought from the province of Pinar del Rio for treatment in the hospitals here.

DARING HOLD-UPS

By Three Highwaymen in St. Louis in the Past Two Days.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—Three daring highwaymen, driving about the streets in a buggy, made three successful hold-ups in the past two days. The plan was to drive slowly along the outer streets till a single pedestrian was encountered, when they would jump from the buggy, rob the victim and drive rapidly away. Miss Frances Weston, the first victim, was robbed of her purse containing nine dollars at the corner of Glasgow and St. Louis avenues Wednesday. An hour later Mrs. William Hopbough was robbed while standing on the sidewalk in front of her home on North Vandeventer avenue.

Thursday Mrs. Mary Seiding was robbed by the same party at Cardinal and Park avenues. The total sum of these robberies is small, but panic has set in, and until the highwaymen are arrested lady shoppers will travel in platoons.

Two shots fired almost simultaneously had shattered the young man's head. Under the head was a partially loaded revolver. Dixon died before a physician could be called. ON A TRAIN

A Lot of Drunken Soldiers Start a Bloody Riot.

The Privates Were on Their Way From the Columbus Barracks

To Different Parts in the West—Four Men Cut More or Less Seriously and the Car Damaged—Army Officials May Take Action in the Matter.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Twenty-five policemen were sent to the Union depot Thursday night at the call of the Ft. Wayne railroad, to meet an incoming train bearing a carload of drunken and riotous privates of the United States army. The conductor of the train had telegraphed ahead for assistance to prevent loss of life and to protect the railroad property, but by the time the crowd reached Chicago the rioting had ceased.

The 25 privates were by themselves, without a commissioned officer, on their way from the Columbus barracks to the various forts throughout the west. While passing through Indiana Thursday afternoon a fight started between Privates Hayes and Karp. A general riot followed, in which four men were cut more or less seriously and a number of the car windows broken. Karp had one of his fingers broken. The whole number of soldiers were drunk, with the exception of three or four. At the station here the men were sullen and uncommunicative, and as the railroad officials decided to let the army officials take action in the matter.

GEN. BUCKNER

Indorsed for Vice President by the Kentucky Old Democratic Convention.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 21.—The sound money democrats, of Kentucky, met in state convention in Music hall Thursday afternoon and Thursday night, and amid the greatest enthusiasm adopted a platform embodying their views; named delegates-at-large to the national convention at Indianapolis; selected ex-vectors from the state at large; formed an organization to carry on the campaign, and indorsed ex-Gov. S. B. Buckner for the nomination for vice president. It was one of the most remarkable gatherings in Kentucky's political history.

Ex-Gov. Simon Bolivar Buckner entered the hall just before the convention was called to order and he was given a rousing reception. After a prayer by Rev. C. R. Hemphill, ex-Lieut. Gov. James R. Rindman was elected temporary chairman. His speech of thanks was followed by a loud demand for ex-Congressman W. C. Breckinridge, who sat on the stage with his wife. The silver-tongued orator came slowly to the front of the stage, and the convention went wild, the body of the hall showing a scene of wildly tossing hands, men on chairs, hats flying and every mouth emitting a yell. Above the confusion arose the name of "Breckinridge."

Mr. Breckinridge raising his hand secured quiet as if by magic and from the first few syllables the gathering was captured.

Just as Col. Breckinridge was bringing his speech to a close, a spectator in the rear of the hall yelled "Hurrah for Bryan," and cries of "Throw him out, throw him out." The police escorted the fellow through the door. Col. Breckinridge asked them to let the disturber alone and closed with a plea for money good the world over and for a tariff for revenue only.

After the transaction of minor business the convention adjourned at 4:15 to 5:15 o'clock when the body reassembled and heard reports from committees, soon taking another recess until 7:30 o'clock.

Judge Quincy Ward, of Paris, was chosen permanent chairman just before the last adjournment. He took the chair when the convention reassembled at 7:40 o'clock. A. J. Carroll, of Louisville, ex-Gov. Buckner, W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Lexington, and W. F. Browder, of Russellville, were chosen as delegates from the state at large to Indianapolis. The roll call showed that 114 out of the 119 counties were represented in the convention.

On motion of Col. Breckinridge the delegates to Indianapolis were instructed to vote for ex-Gov. Simon Bolivar Buckner for vice president as long as they deemed it advisable.

Gov. Buckner made a stirring speech. He said he had determined to retire from politics, but in a case like this, old and young must do their duty alike.

R. T. Tyler, of Paducah, and Judge Quincy Ward, of Paris, were named as electors at large. The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted unanimously. After indorsing the teachings of Jefferson, Jackson, Benton, Tilden and Cleveland, the report demands a currency measured by the existing gold standard and which shall consist of gold with a bank currency. The convention adjourned sine die at 11 o'clock.

HENDERSON, Ky., Aug. 21.—For several weeks past the country store of George Ainslie, near Shady Grove, Crittenden county, has been entered at different times by a burglar and robbed of several hundred dollars' worth of dry goods and groceries. Ainslie resides near the store. He attached strings to his store doors and connected them with his residence in such a manner as to ring a bell whenever the doors were opened. At midnight the alarm bell tinkled, the merchant seized a navy revolver, awoke his boy, and the latter armed himself with a double-barreled shotgun.

He stationed the lad near the front door and instructed him to fire should the thief emerge from that entrance. Then Ainslie stood at the rear door. The burglar came through the front entrance with a pistol in his right hand and a sack of goods over the left shoulder. The boy fired and the marauder dropped the bundle and, staggering several yards, sank mortally wounded.

The burglar proved to be a Negro who occupied a cabin near by, within which over $1,000 worth of stolen booty was found. The Negro fired on the merchant's son, but failed to hit him.
